Coach Lining Up Good Players for University Freshman Team

Captain and Tackle U. of U. 1909 Football Team, Who Will Coach the Freshman Team This Season.

"Tillie" Oleson, the new coach of the university freshman team, is a Utah product. He was born and raised in team that will be able to play some practice games with the regulars. Among the was a member of the University of Utah football team under Coach Joe Maddeck. During the last year he was a factor of the University of Utah football team under Coach Joe Maddeck. During the last year he was a star on the Boulder. Colo., high school the captain of the Utah team. By his own example he filled the team with ginger and kept his men working hard all of the time. He is especially well fitted for his present position and will prove an able assistant to Coach Fred Bennion of the regular team. The university is to be congratulated on securing "Tillie's" services for the season.

The Rocky mountain conference rules which the University of Utah adopted last winter bar freshmen from playing on university athletic teams. For this reason none of the freshmen at the university are eligible to places on the regular team. However, a regular freshman team will be organized and the boys will be trained in university football in order that when they become sophomores they will be veteran players eligible to places on the regular university team.

Prospects for an Excellent Season of Football for Salt Lake Are Good.

STRONG MEN ARE OUT FOR EVERY POSITION

New Candidates and Veterans Are Showing Up Well in Early Practice.

The largest squad in the history of the high school has been out on the field for the past week, and the work of the boys could not be better for the short time. The prospects at the opening of school, when nine old men reported, were exceedingly bright. Since that time four have quit the squad. Nevertheless, the prospects are bright, and nothing short of a clear season will be looked for by the supporters of the team. The material is about half and half, old and new candidates. Some of the new boys, however, are showing up like veterans. During the past two years the school has won out, having everything its own way the past season. It is the plan of those in charge of the boys to make things equally easy this year. The change in rules seems to fit the high school well, and with proper instruction the boys will be as much at home as under the old rules. The squad numbers more than thirty, and since the boys reported for the first workout, until Friday, they have been without a coach. Brusse of Dartmonth took the squad Saturday morning and commenced with a system. The work for the next two weeks will be only preliminary and during that time the boys will be drilled on the changes in rules and the small but important details. The majority of the work consists in running. The team will be a heavy one as compared with those of the past two years. Marsh, who is at center, is balancing the beam at 181. Wallace, the freshman guard of last year, is back from a summer's work and is but two pounds behind Marsh. Capt. Will Yates will be at tackle on the right side of the line for the third year, weighing 170, and with Gallacher at end, the side will be a hard one to surpass. The left guard is open, but Martineau of two years ago, weighing 175 pounds, will probably take this place. Left tackle and left end are open. Wilson, Godbe, Whitney, Young, Shores, Kesler, Kerr, Atkins and Snow are all fighting for ends, and Wilkinson, Kimbali, Morris, Lippman, Drx, Daly, Judd, Cahoon and McCann are out for tackle. Fitspatrick will be a tagrater for his third regular season. Siddoway, Johnson and Doran are also training for the position. The back field is well supplied with men and a f The prospects at the opening of when nine old men reported. were exceedingly bright. Since that time

By Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10 .- Captain Thomas S. Baldwin made a fourteen-mile flight in his aeroplane over the Mississippi river here late this afternoon, in nineteen minutes. He crossed over three and flew under two bridges while in the air. Including the time he was on the ground between the flights, it was thirty-six minutes from the time he started until he landed on the aviation grounds. Before starting on the river flight he

he landed on the aviation grounds.

Before starting on the river flight he made two preliminary trips of three minutes each in the air. Then he started toward the river and immediately went over the bridge near the field and continued down the river. Going up into the air 150 feet, he crossed an interurban bridge, and later the Eads bridge, on which 50,000 people were standing.

He continued down the river and landed in Illinois, seven miles below his starting point. He made the trip in ten minutes. On the upward flight he went under the Eads bridge and narrowly missed a ferryboat as she emerged from a smoke-cloud. Before he left the river channel he flew under the interurban bridge and landed on the same spot from which he started. Part of the time the aviator was lost in the smoke-clouds. He held his machine at all times at right angles to a thirteen-mile wind. Baildwin, who is flying under the auspices of the Post-Dispatch, will make field flights here tomorrow and Monday.

Indications Are That J. C. Brusse, All-American Center. May Be With High School.

EIGHT YEARS OF FOOTBALL TO CREDIT OF BIG STAR

Work With Both Western and Eastern Elevens Gives Him Needed Experience.

The man who will probably coach the Salt Lake high school football eleven this lege, who has a record of eight years, all being successful. Since it was learned that "Dad" Convill, who put a winning team in the field last year, would not again take up the high school work, Principal Eaton was at a loss to fill the vacancy, and not until Friday afternoon was a probable candidate found. D. A Callahan learned that Brusse was in Sali Lake and invited him to come to one of the afternoon practices. Brusse took a look at the squad work out and at once placed an application with Principal Eaton for the position of coach. R now seems likely that the big Dartmouth star will take the squad in hand.

Brusse has been with the boys two afternoons and has made them work. He took well with the entire squad and this fact practically assures him the position. Brusse has a record of eight years of football and should be a competent man to coach the high school team.

Brusse entered the West Denver high school in 1900 and for his four years played center, being captain one year. Following his graduation he entered the University of Colorado and played center during his freshman year. He left the college and took up advance work at Dartmouth and after a hard fight won the center position from an old player. He played three years at this position and left Dartmouth in '09. Brusse coached a successful season while at college, handling the freshman team. Brusse played his last college ball in '08.

In the selection of the Ali-American elevens, Walter Camp of Yale picked Brusse for the center man on the third eleven. Camp said: "Brusse of Dartmouth proved himself an able center. Powerful, active and a good passer, he was an awkward customer for any one to handle, and did much towards his team's good work in the important games."
